| VICTIM 2: | AGE: | | |

SUMMARY:

Terry Patrick tried to cash a forged check at the Navy Federal Credit Union at 1824 Marron Rd, Carlsbad. The teller recognized the check as forged and called the police. As the police arrived, Terry Patrick got into the passenger seat of a waiting car, a 2008 Toyota SUV rental car. The officers also learned that there was a one-year-old child in the car. When officers tried to stop the car, the driver fled, leading the officers on a pursuit onto the northbound I-5. As the pursuit traveled through Orange County, Carlsbad officers asked CHP to take over the pursuit (this is a common practice in long pursuits that leave the county). Following a 100 mile pursuit that reached speeds of 95 MPH, the driver yielded in the 1000 block of Flower St. in Inglewood.

The driver, Kenya Patrick (Terry Patrick's daughter) was arrested by CHP for the pursuit and for child endangerment. Carlsbad officers drove to Inglewood and arrested Terry Patrick for forgery and burglary. The one-year-old child is Kenya Patrick's nephew and was unharmed.
